GREAT THINKERS.

They Will Meet at the World's Fair in 1893, to Discuss Science, Art, Etc.

CHICAGO, April 4, 1891.—Preparation is being pushed for the great "Congress of Thinkers," which will be held in connection with the World's Fair at Chicago in 1893. This enterprise, which bears the formidable name of "World's Congress Auxiliary of the World's Columbian Exposition," will, it is believed, draw together, into intelligent consideration and discussion of all the more important subjects within the range of human thought, a greater number of the world's great thinkers than ever before assembled. Thus far the preparatory work has been chiefly of organization and planning. Charles C. Bonney, the president, has issued a second prospectus or announcement, in which the object of the Congress is thus defined:

"To promote the holding of appropriate conventions during the World's Columbian Exposition of 1893, for the consideration of the living questions in all the departments of human progress; and in addition thereto a Union Congress Auxiliary, in which the important points accomplished will be set forth by the most eminent representatives who can attend, thus securing freedom and independence of separate organizations, and union and harmony in presenting to the world the higher achievements of mankind; while the people who will come to the Exposition may enjoy the privilege of seeing and hearing many of the distinguished leaders with whose name they have become familiar. The Auxiliary has no jurisdiction over any exhibit of material things, but will deal exclusively with conventions of persons and their proceedings, with the aim of promoting, by fraternal action, the progress, prosperity, unity, peace and happiness of the world. It is hoped that the congresses will result in a series of permanent world-wide fraternities of very great practical value."

Announcement is made of the chairmen, secretaries, and members of the general committees on the sub-congresses on education, science and philosophy, temperance, moral and social questions, labor, literature, law reform, religions, medicine and surgery, commerce and finance, agriculture, arbitration and peace, music, etc; also chairmen of the committees of the Woman's Branch of the Congress are given for sub-congresses on schools and teachers, household economies, social reform, temperance, charities, churches, missions, physicians, authors and journalism, art and artists, music, etc.

The persons named on these committees include many men and women eminent in the various branches of learning and research. The prospectus concludes with these words:

"The controlling purpose of the Auxiliary will be to bring all of the departments of progress into harmonious relations with each other, to the end that the utmost attainable completeness and unity may characterize the World's Congresses of 1893, without materially impairing the distinctive characteristics of the various contributions to the marvelous progress of the nineteenth century.

Differing religious denominations, temperance societies, schools of medicine, and other organizations will work in harmony to secure a result in which all are alike interested, and to obtain which the Auxiliary will endeavor to exercise the highest impartiality and justice. It will aim to secure a presentation of the best aspect of every sincere and commendable effort to attain a result beneficial to mankind, leaving the comparative merits of competing institutions to the judgment of the enlightened world."

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY WILL RUN TO SEATTLE.

They Have Control of the Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern—A Young Unknown Couple Suicide in a New York Hotel—The Sealing Question Again.

TACOMA, April 20.—Assistant General Passenger Agent D. E. Brown, of Vancouver, B. C., of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, was in the city to-day, and officially announced that his company would run cars into Seattle from Mission between May 1 and 15. The trains will run over the Canadian Pacific extension from Mission to Sumas and from Sumas to Seattle over the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern. If arrangements can be made with the Northern Pacific the Canadian, Mr. Brown says, will extend its service to Tacoma. It is understood the Northern does not approve of the Canadian coming into its territory over the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern, but the arrangement to that end having been made before the latter company passed under the control of the Northern, the agreement cannot be rescinded.

Romance in Real Life.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A young couple registered at the Grand Union Hotel Sunday morning as P. Behr and wife, and were assigned to a large room on the third floor. To-night they were found dead, locked in each others' arms. They had employed the old familiar method of inhaling gas through rubber tubes held in the mouth. On the woman's breast was a large and beautiful bouquet, evidently purchased by the young man for the occasion. None about the hotel knew who the couple were, but they were evidently Germans. They left four letters, two to Mrs. Miller, of 210 East Ninth street, one to the coroner, and one to a woman in Williamsburg. Mrs. Miller refuses to state who the suicides were. The other letters have not yet been opened.

The Commons Speaker.

Special to the TIMES.]

OTTAWA, April 22.—Conservative whips have dispatched a circular to all members of Parliament to be on hand at the opening of Parliament, as it is supposed the Opposition will put up a speaker against the Government nominee.

SEATTLE'S KICK

Against Discrimination on Behring Sea Question.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Secretary Blaine has received through the treasury department a memorial of the chamber of commerce, Seattle, Wash., protesting against the discrimination in favor of foreigners in the Behring sea fisheries. The memorial says the law should be enforced and poaching prevented, but if the delicacy of the position in which the government is placed pending the diplomatic negotiations is such as to prevent the law's strict enforcement, any discrimination should be in favor of our own people.

The memorial sums up the position of the chamber of commerce as follows: This chamber urges:

First—The thorough execution of the law, if possible.

Second—If impossible, its non-enforcement as to all.

Third—That any and all discriminations on the part of the government in its enforcements shall be to the benefit of our own citizens.

A SAVAGE'S ANSWER.

The King of Gambia Maltreats a British Government Envoy.

LONDON, April 22.—Advices received here from Bathurst, the capital of Gambia, a British west African colony, appear to show that Great Britain has another little war on her hands. The native king of Gambia has for some time past committed, or allowed to be committed, a number of depredations and abuses, from which the British colonists are the sufferers. The British governor of Gambia, Gilbert Thomas Carter, C.M.G., had been instructed to tell the king that his subjects must behave themselves or they might expect a visit of a disciplinary nature. After hearing the English threats the king ordered the English envoy to be seized and gave instructions that he be sent back to Bathurst in a manner that would be a warning to all other English envoys who might venture up the Gambia river. Thereupon, by the King's directions, parts of the envoys cheeks and parts of his thighs were cut out by one of the King's body guard, and later the envoy and the pieces of flesh cut from his body were sent back to Bathurst with the following: "This is the King's answer." The British administrator has taken prompt steps to send the King a suitable reply, and three British gunboats have already ascended the Gambia river to avenge the outrage.

NEWS FROM NANAIMO.

The Charge Against Robert Slater—The Horticultural Society—No Land, Etc.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

NANAIMO, April 22.—The case against Robert Slater, for an alleged assault upon a non-union miner named Root, which was said to have taken place on Sunday, April 12th, was brought before Judge Harrison yesterday for a preliminary hearing. Much delay was caused by the non-appearance of the witnesses for both sides, and the case had to be adjourned several times before they made their appearance. The prosecutor gave a very bad account of how he had been handled on the Wellington road, and finally stated that Slater was one of the men who did it. But none of the three witnesses could corroborate the evidence given by him. One witness was emphatical in his denial of ever having seen Slater. A number of witnesses were called for the defence, but all of them failed to throw any light upon the affair, so the court adjourned at 9:30 last evening, to meet again at 11 o'clock this morning.

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Mayor Hilbert, who is ever ready to do a good act to advance the interests of the city, made an offer to the council on Monday night, if they would give $100 towards the Horticultural and Agricultural Society he would do the same. The council refused to give a cent towards it, so if it is got up successfully this year, then the praise will be due to the mayor for his strenuous exertions in pushing the thing forward. Mayor Hilbert first endeavored to promote the scheme ten years ago, but owing to the little support he received he was compelled to allow it to drop. Last year quite a sum of money was subscribed, but later it was refunded as there was insufficient to meet the requirements.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS NO LAND.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago, it was stated the municipal council had applied to the Government for 350 acres of land at the back of Mount Benson, for the purpose of making a park there. In reply, the mayor received a communication from the Government stating they had "no land" to give near Nanaimo. It appears the land is already given away and if the corporation desire to make a park, then they will have to purchase two or three hundred acres from the railway company, and this will be at a cost of a few hundred dollars.

EARLY BLOSSOMS.

Heavy rain fell here yesterday and continued until past midnight, it was quite welcome, and caused the fruit trees which had just begun to blossom, to come out in full bloom. Nanaimo is well-stocked with fruit trees, almost every garden possesses a number of them, and as they shed forth their blossoms, it suffices to give a very picturesque appearance to the city. Rain will not be required again for some few days, and sunshine would be a welcome guest.

Several members of Ashlar Lodge went to Comox this morning to assist in forming a Masonic Lodge in that district.

Bicycles are becoming very numerous in this city, and the riders are practising hard for the gold medal prize.

Mayor Hilbert intends offering a handsome large silver cup for the boat race this year.

B. C. FRUIT TRADE.

A Montreal Merchant's Idea of the Capabilities of the Province as a Fruit Producer.

Mr. D. L. Lockerby, one of Montreal's leading men, is westward on a general business combined with pleasure trip. He takes particular interest in British Columbia as a mining and fruit growing center, and in the latter capacity looks upon it as the garden of Canada. This is particularly so in the districts of Kamloops, along the Fraser River and through the Chilliwhack and Sumas country, all of which can produce cherries and plums equal to anything in the world. Mr. Lockerby says a little more care should be taken in growing peaches, so far as the selection of trees are concerned, and the same may be said with regard to pears. They could be grown more on the hillsides, where they would get more warmth from the sun. When grown in these rich, alluvial valleys, they become too large, and so lose a great deal of their lusciousness. Mr. Lockerby has contracted with Mr. Munn for two carloads of British Columbia cherries this season, solely for the Eastern market, and could sell as many as he could get. In other fruits it is the same, and the wonder is that British Columbia does not attend more to this profitable industry as far as the Eastern Provinces can be regarded as a market for British Columbia fish. Mr. Locke by thinks the possibility of this is relegated to the time when quicker transit can be obtained. Mr. Lockerby goes up to the Mainland tonight but will return to meet the Empress of India. He will, by invitation, attend a meeting of the fruit growers at Ladners on the 4th May to give his opinion on this important industry.

THE LADIES' AID SOCIETY

Of the Calvary Baptist Church Hold Their First Sale of Work.

Temperance Hall, Pandora street, was besieged by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Calvary Baptist Church this morning, and before noon it had become completely transformed, the bare walls having been tastefully decorated, and the rest of the hall made to harmonize therewith. The occasion was the sale of work that the ladies had been preparing for some time with their usual ardor, and from the appearance to-day, they were evidently meeting with the success to which they were entitled. The fancy goods stalls, in charge of Mesdames Lewis, Marchant, Few and Cleveland, and Miss Walker, were stocked with useful and pretty articles, which found ready purchasers in the throng of ladies and gentlemen who attended the sale during the afternoon.

At noon a splendid lunch was served, of which many took advantage, business men generally taking a change from their restaurants and clubs to the tables where they could obtain a home meal. Mesdames Andrews, Bodley, Pickard, McNeil and Sherwood had charge of this department, and all were well pleased with the treatment they received. The other ladies of the Ladies' Aid Society were busy receiving and entertaining their friends, and much credit is due to all for the way in which everything was carried out.

At 8 o'clock this evening a concert will be held, in which some of the best local talent of the city will take part. As the ladies have taken such an interest in the affair, no doubt it will be one to be pleasantly remembered.

AFFAIRS IN PORTUGAL.

A CORRESPONDENT FEARS A REVOLUTION IS BUDDING.

A Grave Charge Against the Governor of Guinea—The Thunderer's Opinion of the Republican Administration—Heavy Parsee Bank Failure in Bombay.

LONDON, April 22.—The correspondent of the Times at Madrid states that grave anxiety is felt over state affairs in Portugal. He expresses fears that a revolution is about to break out, in which event the lives of foreign subjects will be in great danger.

TO BE REMOVED.

The Governor of Guinea is blamed for the disaster on the Island of Bissao, and will be at once removed.

THE TIMES' OPINION.

The Times says that President Harrison's programme reminds it of the milkmaid and the overturned pail, while the reckoning on the potential riches of his calculations are indisputably sound. The Senate's committee of inquiry on the effect of the McKinley law is unnecessary, but lavish projects are useful election gear to disguise from the taxpayers the effect of the McKinley law.

HEAVY FAILURE IN BOMBAY.

B. & A. Homarjee, Parsee bankers and merchants, Bombay, have failed, liabilities £500,000. This explains the weakness of the London and Liverpool markets yesterday.

Portuguese Overpowered.

LISBON, April 22.—The natives overpowered the Portuguese garrison and raised the French flag. Two battles were fought and four hundred natives and three Portuguese officers were killed, and twenty-one men wounded, in addition 71 men are reported missing. Reinforcements will be sent from Lisbon to the scene of the revolt. (This dispatch does not say where it occurred.)

Bismarck's Election Sure.

BERLIN, April 22.—The Radicals and Guelphs have decided to allow the electors a free hand at Gestemunde. This insures the election of Bismarck. The Socialists continue lavish in spending money, and it is asserted that the resources of the Socialists come from other parties who are opposed to Bismarck.

Parnell's Position.

LONDON, April 22—Reports of the McCarthyite members of the Commons, who have canvassed the whole of Ireland, say that a general election would oust 26 Parnellite members from Parliament including Parnell himself. Parnell's nominees would probably capture their seats.

Fava Arrives at Rome.

ROME, April 22.—Baron Fava, Italian Minister at Washington, has arrived here. Immediately after his arrival, he had a prolonged conference with the Marquis de Rudini, on the various aspects of the New Orleans affair. The result has not yet been made known.

Good News for Political Offenders.

MADRID, April 22.—The senate prime minister, Canovas, presented a bill granting amnesty to Spanish political offenders now exiled or imprisoned. Zorilla will not receive the benefits of this bill, an exception being made in his case.

A Traitor's Reward.

PARIS, April 22.—A Belgian named Thissean has been sentenced to five years penal servitude for selling secret documents to Germany. The trial was held in Camara.

Anarchists Imprisoned.

ROME, April 22.—Many anarchists have been expelled from this city for agitating for a general strike.

THE GAME OF KINGS.

Prince Bismarck and Late Prince Napoleon—How the World was to be Conquered.

PARIS, March 26.—The Marquis de Villeneuve publishes in the Figaro an account of a conversation with Prince Bismarck at Berlin early in 1866, given to him, he says, by Prince Napoleon, the account being written down and acknowledged by Prince Napoleon to be correct, though he did not wish it to be published in his lifetime.

In 20 minutes, with wonderful animation, Prince Bismarck developed the following plan: Germany was to become united, and to ally herself to France, and these two nations, closely bound together, were to push back Russia into her steppes. Hungary, having become the pivot of the Austrian Empire, was to have opened to her the road to Constantinople. England was to be deprived of her colonies, which were to become a reservoir for the superabundant population of Germany and France; and Spain, Italy, and the Scandinavian countries were to be reduced to the position of satellites.

He concluded as follows:

"I see your idea. You say, "M. de Bismarck will take Germany. What will he give?"

"Do you want Geneva?"

"It is too small."

"Luxumburg?"

"It is nothing. Something must be given which is worth while to take. We want the frontier of the Rhine."

"Oh! the Rhine. I suspected it. Well, that I cannot give you. Understand well what I mean. For myself it would matter little. I do not attach importance to the Rhine. I am not a German. I am a Prussian, a Wende. I must not be confounded with a Heidelberg professor. But I have not control over that question. Public opinion will never consent to the cession of a German village. We must look for something else. Would you like Belgium?"

"That might be discussed. But what about England?"

"You speak of England. Well, if I were an American cotton planter or an Indian rajah, I should be anxious about the opinion of the English, but I am a great continental power, and I take small heed of England. Let us see, what could she do? She will embark 80,000 men or 100,000, let us say, if you like, 150,000. She cannot mobilize a larger number. Well! are we too not strong enough to fling them into the channel?

"Why have you not spoken to the Emperor as distinctly as you have done to me?"

"Your Emperor? Why, he is a woman. I made a thousand advantageous proposals to him. He hesitates, he speaks about his love of peace, of justice, of the rights of people. Foolish talk! I push his knee under the table and he pretends not to understand."

The conversation having ended Prince Napoleon rose. "Monsieur le Comte, I am going to repeat our conversation to the Emperor. Would you like to known in what terms?"

"Tell me, tell me, Prince!"

"Sire, M. de Bismarsk proposes a great act of robbery to us. Could we seize him and take him before the police magistrate? I am afraid we could not. Well, then, let us join him in stealing."

Count Bismarck put down his pipe on the table, broke into a loud laugh, and clasped the hand of Prince Napoleon, saying, "I see you understand me." The Prince came back to Paris, and advised the Emperor to invade Belgium on the very day when Prussia should declare war against Austria.—London Times.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS

OH, MY BACK!

STOP IT NOW,

SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was beat over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when glad Providence sent Dr. Healey, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

THE RING.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—James J. Corbett, who is matched to meet Peter Jackson before the California Athletic Club May 21, has sent the following communication to the press: "Having noticed the statement of Jackson that there is no forfeit up in our match, I beg to inform you that on the night our match was made the directors of the California Athletic Club asked both Jackson and myself to put up $500 each as a guaranty that we would both be on hand on the night of May 21. The treasurer of the California Club afterwards came to me and got my $500 and I trusted to the honesty of the directors of the club to do the same with Jackson. Mr. Fulda promised me that the California Club would go security for Jackson. Now if this match is postponed on Jackson's account I will look to the California Club for his $500, and I will willingly forfeit my money if by any accident I am unable to appear May 21. When I was in the East I became sick, and canceling all engagements I returned to California as soon as possible to get into condition to train for this match. On the other hand Mr. Jackson hurt his foot three weeks ago, and instead of trying to get well he has been dissipating in every way since, which assertion I can prove by several reputable citizens of Oakland. There is considerable talk as to whether the match will take place or not. It certainly appears that Mr. Jackson is not over anxious to meet me. It is a source of annoyance to me not to be able to know positively whether the match will come off or not. This is the first time I have alluded to Mr. Jackson's ability or courage, and I do it only in behalf of my friends and myself."

HALL AND FITZ IN CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Active negotiations will be begun to-morrow by the managers and backers of Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Hall toward arranging a match between the pair. The crazy endeavor on the part of John Quinn, of Pittsburg, to pit heavy weight Ed. Smith against Fitzsimmons at 154 pounds has fallen through. The entire fuss was probably nothing more or less than a clever advertising scheme.

Neither the New Zealander nor the Australian are here for fun. They came to fight. It is conceded that no American middle weight dares to face Fitzsimmons, and the only opponent he can hope to meet is Hall. The latter means business, and if Fitzsimmons is acting in the same spirit, his backers will be content to fight for a big purse and not insist on a side stake of ridiculous proportions. If they do so continue to insist, their actions will be looked upon as a bluff. In a day or two Parson Davies, on behalf of Hall, will challenge Fitzsimmons to fight for the biggest purse to be had, and will deposit $1000 as a forfeit to insure his man's appearance in the ring. It is thought the long-delayed match will be arranged this week. If so, the battle, when it takes place, will be the sensation of the ring.

BASEBALL.

THE CINCINNATI BASEBALL SUIT.

CINCINNATI, April 21.—The court to-day appointed William Albert, cashier of the First National Bank, receiver to whom the National League shall pay the $30,000 in dispute, which shall be disbursed according to judgment hereafter rendered. Unless the League pays the receiver this money by Wednesday the injunction asked for to prevent them from using the ball park will be granted.

Admirers of the Seattle team will be delighted to learn that Powell has added a third pitcher to his staff. The man is O'Neill, who last year did splendid work in the box for Dallas, Tex. In 1889 he made a fine record with Galveston, Tex. Powell had the choice of a large number of pitchers, but chose O'Neill as the most valuable of the lot. In addition to his pitching ability the new man is a good outfielder and a strong batter.

LACROSSE.

LACROSSE TOURNAMENT.

From present appearances the lacrosse tournament, on the occasion of the celebration of the arrival of the first of the Canadian Pacific Railway's new China and Japan steamers, will be a grand success, and will, no doubt, prove to be an exhibition that will be very attractive to the world-circlers who will stay over in Vancouver. A telegram was received last night from the Calgary club accepting the offer made them, and Victoria and Westminster will also, no doubt, come as well, although final arrangements have not actually been settled. The local club, however, will make arrangements so that if the Victoria club come over and have to play in the final, the game will be played in the morning, so that they will be able to return on Tuesday's boat, and thus save a day. Every hospitality will be extended to the visiting lacrossists, and their stay in Vancouver will be made as pleasant as the united efforts of the club and the citizens generally can make it. The visit of the Calgary team will no doubt add a good deal to the interest of the tournament, and the attendance will be largely increased, though lacrosse has never yet failed to draw a large number of spectators. — News-Advertiser.

At Buckingham Palace.

To be presented at Buckingham Palace (says the Philadelphia Times), costs at least $250. It gives the presentee, whether male or female, no right to appear again at court, and it does not entail a single invitation to a function of royal, or even semi-royal, state. However, every woman in England who can possibly manage it gets presented, and the bill for husband or father to pay is usually like this:

Gloves and shoes	2	0	0
Feathers and fan	5	0	0
Bouquet	2	0	0
Carriage hire (special private brougham)	1	0	0
Lessons in etiquette	5	5	0
Photographer	2	0	0
Total	58	5	0

Rather a large sum of money—$290—for two hours' wait in a cold carriage, two hours more crushed among a lot of jabbering women in a palace anti-chamber, and one minute of agony passed in groveling to a little fat old lady, who seems to be all diamonds and weariness, and in making a series of lowly reverences to a number of haughty women—the princesses—standing with well-elevated noses to the right of Her Majesty.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

The proposition by the Canada Western Central, to be made to the city of Victoria, in response to the invitation from the Council of the Board of Trade, will include a guarantee of 5 per cent. interest on $3,000,000 for a period of years, probably 20. The company will undertake to construct 50 miles per annum, for a certain number of years.

It is not likely that the Union Pacific will make an offer at present in respect to the extension of their line to Victoria.

The Victoria & Saanich—the most feasible of the three routes open to Victoria—will, it is to be hoped, "get a move on," now that the public mind is exercised on railway matters. This line could be built and put in operation before the Southern or Northern lines were surveyed. The time is opportune for Mr. DE COSMOS to come to the front.

THE GUARDS.

The Guards again insubordinate! What can be the matter with the Guards? Too much drill, say they. Too much of "full marching orders!" Or, to express what the Guards really mean, too much fuss and feathers, too much of the martinet, and, shall it be added too much of "dude" officers. Insubordination among raw levies is bad enough, but insubordination among disciplined troops is worse, not merely as affording an example for others to emulate, but as indicative of something wrong just where it should not be. It may be depended upon that the Guards have a real grievance. Such men do not mutiny except for cause. There is something wrong in high places. When the second battalion of this command mutinied a year ago, it was supposed there would be an investigation ordered. But no such order went forth. Why not? Shall it be supposed that an investigation would not have taken place had the authorities felt certain of being able to locate the fault among the rank and file? The failure to investigate into the causes which led to the revolt of the second battalion was owing to the knowledge that some person or persons of rank would have to be censured, and perhaps cashiered. And that it is well understood that the insubordinate third battalion has a grievance is manifest in the fact that the ring-leaders are not already shot. Military authorities are not in the habit of "arguing" with soldiery who are mutinous without cause.

THE SOUND, NOT THE SUBSTANCE OF REFORM.

The speech from the Throne, which, it may be presumed, was carefully penned by the Government, could not have been improved upon as answering the Opposition idea, had it emanated direct from Mr. BEAVEN himself. In so far as sound went it was stolen thunder. The Government, through the Lieut.-Governor, declared that in regard to schools, lands, minerals and sundry other matters, reform legislation would be enacted. This line of policy so far as mere words went was essentially the same as that of the Opposition and of the Independents. It was essentially their's in the fact that the Hon JOHN ROBSON a few months before had declined to entertain reform legislation as to these very matters; had indeed declared from the boards of the Victoria theatre, that seven-eights of the province were in accord with his policy. Later, however, the Hon. JOHN ROBSON changed his mind. The result of the election raised some doubts in his mind as to whether seven-eights of the Province were in accord with his policy. Orders-in-Council followed. The Hon. JOHN ROBSON reversed his policy with a suddenness that made people dizzy, and in the speech from the Throne he gave it further emphasis. So far, in so far as sound went, the Government had adopted the policy of its opponents. But there is a vast difference between the adoption of a policy by sound and that by of acts, and in respect of the latter, we fail to see that it has been done. The new School law cannot be called a reform measure, nor can the Land Act. These important measures are peculiarly Robsonish. Neither the Beaven idea nor the Cotton idea enter very largely into their composition. All that can be said of these measures is, that they are mere sounds of reform. Their excellence as reform measures remains to be demonstrated. Thus we have it that the Government has appropriated the form and not the substance of the idea of their opponents. They stole the platform of their opponents verbally, but they refused to make it good by acts. In only two things has the substance as well as the form of the idea of their opponents been adopted by the Government, and these were the revision of the mining laws and the repeal of the Royalty clause, nor can the Government claim any merit for these. It had no option but repeal the Royalty clause or resign. The revision of the mining laws was induced by circumstances not dissimilar. The Government in respect of these matters made virtue of necessity.

We have intimated that the excellence of the School Act and of the Land Act as reform measures remain to be demonstrated. This, taking the broadest possible view of these measures. To our mind that they are reactionary measures is distinctly visible. No measure can be otherwise that takes power from the hands of the people. If Governments were always actuated by the highest motives of public good, we could endorse a despotism, but as we know that they are no., we are bound to limit their prerogatives. Under the provisions of the School Act the Government may now run the schools as they please, while as to the Land Act, they have in clause 17 a power which we would not vest in any Government. The alleged reform measures of the Government are but travesties, and time will vindicate this assertion.

COAST DEFENCES.

As in America, so in England, the cry goes up for coast defences that will defend. England's defences, it is claimed, are old fashioned, obsolete. So far as the defences are concerned there is nothing to prevent a Frenchman or a Russian from landing and collecting toll in any amount he pleases. Those who have been trained to use the pen instead of the sword are not reckoned good authority in military matters; but it may be suggested that coast defences never yet proved an insuperable bar to an invading force. England must rest her hopes of immunity from invasion wholly on her navy. That victorious invasion, is impossible, that beaten, all the fortifications that might be built would not save the strictly coast cities from bombardment. Furthermore, if the navy should be beaten, and the foe should be able to establish a blockade, England would be starved out in ninety days. No enemy will undertake the invasion of England until he has first beaten the navy, and then invasion will not be necessary. Put the money into a navy that would be required for fortifications, and England will be as safe from invasion as she can reasonably expect to be.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Oregonian: The Chinese in California have been greatly benefitted by the exclusion act. They receive better wages and generally better treatment than before. Some of them become land renters, and a few land owners. The Chinaman has trades unions of his own, and loses no chance to strike for higher wages and usually gets them.

JAS. G. BLAINE, jr., was presented at the levee of the Prince of Wales, and was treated with consideration by the latter. International courtesy and that sort of thing require, perhaps, that young Mr BLAINE should be made the recepient of the Prince's attentions, but if the former's alleged treatment of his wife is half true, the Prince should have kicked the young gentleman out of his sight.

PHŒBE COUSINS declares that it she is removed from the chairmanship of the female department of the Chicago fair commission she will take the platform and set herself right before the people. As the San Francisco Call remarks, "there is no defence against such a threat as that," and advises the "executive committee of the lady managers to call Miss COUSINS off if possible." There is no likelihood, however, of Miss COUSINS allowing herself to be called off. With the brains of a man, and with all the stubbornness of a woman, PHŒBE will have to be hauled off. The history of the Chicago fair will or ought to furnish posterity with interesting reading.

SOME SUGGESTIONS

For the Celebration of the Queen's Birthday —Ideas that Might be Adopted.

It has been suggested that the illuminations on the occasion of the Queen's birthday be transferred from the Government grounds to the park. Two reasons are assigned for this. One of them is the very laudable idea of bringing popular notice to the park which is more peculiarly the people's own ground, and the place that should be made more beautiful and attractive than any other on such an occasion. The other reason is that, as was fully demonstrated last year, the Government grounds are not at all adequate to accommodate even Victorians, not to speak of visitors on such an occasion. In the event of this change being carried out there is ample scope for illuminations and decorations at the Park, both among the graves and out on the summit of Beacon Hill. A fountain could be erected on the summit with very little cost, as the main now runs to the foot of the Hill. This fountain could be set playing at night time, and as the electric light wires are now struck as far as the show grounds, the cost of extension to the top of the Hill would be very slight. This done, colored lights could be made to play on the fountain, causing no doubt a remarkably pretty effect. Taking into consideration the fact that the city could do this at a cost far smaller than some of the most elaborate illuminations at the Government grounds, it is perhaps worth considering the suggestion. The changing lights could be arranged by a reflector.

Another suggestion is an illuminated fire drill by the Department on the Hill during the evening. Victoria's Fire Department will compare favorably with, and even allow points to any other department on the coast, and if visitors get such an opportunity of seeing it, they will know that this is no idle boast. The Hill would be a splendid site for such a turnout, and with proper illuminating effects it could be made a grand spectacle.

Double the Cost.

Mr. A. M. Muir has drawn the plans of a hotel at Oak Bay to cost $25,000. At a meeting of the company yesterday it was decided that a $50,000 hotel would be more desirable, and it is probable that the plans will be altered.

Successfully Closed.

The ladies of the Reformed Episcopal church have reason to feel grateful at the successful termination of their sale of work. The programme last evening was ably and enjoyably carried out to the satisfaction of the large number present.

The happy couple start for their home in this city on the 1st of May. George being a member of the fire department, the white streamers will again float over the engine houses in honor of the event.

Moving Towards the Park.

Residents on Catherine street are wroth that a house on that thoroughfare should be sold for the purpose of being devoted to purposes altogether foreign and opposed to the ideas of the people now living in that vicinity. The amount to be paid for the house is $8000, and some leading lights of respectable society are said to be finding the funds.

The Cricket Club.

There positively must be something done to rouse the spirit of cricket if any is left in Victoria. There was to have been a meeting last night, but it was not held. At the annual meeting there were nine present. The club should either say what it is going to do, or drop the sport altogether and let the working members take it up. Bob Foster, a good all round cricketer and athlete, would like to see some spirit shown in the game.

Tourist Spoons and Opera Glasses.

Mr. A. A. Clayton, of the Diamond place, Government street, has now completed and ready for inspection, a large stock of tourist spoons, suitable for souvenirs of Victoria. In the bowls of the spoons are etched scenes of the Gorge, Dunsmuir Castle, Mount Baker, and other pictures of Victoria scenery. He has also just received a consignment of beautiful opera glasses, in pearl and Russia leather, which are pronounced the finest ever imported to this city.

Too Hard on the Old Maids.

A Canadian paper gives the following information: "Mercury being the morning star while Virgo is on deck presages that old maids will be very skittish and kittenish this year." We firmly believe the true indications are, that not only old maids, but every wife and mother in Canada will this year use more Diamond Dyes than ever before, as all have discovered their great superiority over all imitations now on the market. Diamond Dyes always become the favorites when once tried.

They Were Disappointed.

The land excitement about Oak Bay was the means of bringing serious disappointment to several people who wanted to get possession of some of the most desirable places. A number of gentlemen staked out the lovely islands facing the bay, and applied to the Provincial Government for possession on the ground of pre-emption. The authorities told them that the land belonged to the Dominion Government, and what is more, the Islands are seemingly set apart as Indian reserves.

Supreme Court.

Seeley vs. Morse—This case came up for hearing at two o'clock this afternoon in the above court, and was proceeding at the time of going to press. The circumstances are well known.

No One Badly Hurt.

The cook and the mate of the schooner Laura collided to-day, the effect being a slight cut in the mate's hand. The row was started by a little strong language, ending in the cook drawing a knife, which was speedily taken away from him by the mate.

The Tug Lorne Matter.

The appeal case in connection with the fining of the tug Lorne is proceeding. Hon. C. E. Pooley, Q. C., is acting here for the Messrs. Dunsmuir, and Judge Burke, of Seattle, is to conduct the case on the other side. The two lawyers had a consultation Monday evening when Judge Burke was over here, and certain evidence was prepared to submit when the case comes up for hearing.

Provincial Cycling Association.

H. J. Scott, secretary of the Island Wanderers Bicycle Club, received a communication from the Vancouver Club last evening relative to forming a Provincial Association. This would be the best way possible to encourage this sport in British Columbia, and every effort should be made to carry it out. The members of the Wanderer's will meet in Bastion Square this evening for the regular weekly drill, weather permitting.

The Nuptial Knot.

Rev. Coverdale Watson on Monday evening tied the nuptial knot which bound for life Miss E. M. McKenelley to Mr. Jno. W. Moore. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Thomas McKenelley. Miss Emma, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. C. A. Hoffman supported the groom. The bride was very fortunate in the matter of presents, her friends remembering her with a generous spirit, and sending her into married life with many useful and ornamental souvenirs of "single blessedness."

Johnson's Colored Minstrels.

Speaking of the Lew Johnson's colored minstrels which are to appear at the Victoria on Monday and Tuesday next, the Santa Cruz (Cal.) Daily Serf says: "The entertainment of the Lew Johnson Colored Minstrels at the opera house, Tuesday evening was well worth attending. The company is more refined in its entertainment and superior in many respects to some of the minstrel troupes that are made up of white men. The band of the troupe is especially good and the commedians will compare favorably with the best talent of the profession."

The Empress of India.

The Empress of India will remain at the outer wharf for a very short time, proceeding directly to Vancouver after the passengers and mails have been disembarked. Mayor Grant, in reply to an inquiry respecting the length of time the steamship would remain at Victoria, has received the following telegram:

BANFF, April 21, '91.

JOHN GRANT, Mayor:

The present being a trial trip in respect to the matter of quick time for the mails it will be impossible for ship to remain longer than business absolutely requires.

W. C. VAN HORNE.

Work was commenced yesterday on Pierre's new block on Douglas street, and things are being pushed on Jensen's new hotel on Dallas road.

Mr. Mallandaine is receiving tenders for a two story dwelling on Avalon road, James Bay.

Tug Lorne Fined and Released

The British tug Lorne, seized at Port Angeles by Deputy Collector Bickford, has been released. The vessel was fined $844 for towing an American ship in American waters contrary to the statutes, and this fine her owners paid. Had they refused to do so and thrown the case into court, a decision would have been had to govern all future cases of this kind. As it is, nothing more than a protest will be filed. It is said the British tugmen will show their resentment of the fine and enforcement of the law by trying to have the subport of entry at Nanaimo closed and thus force the tugs from the American side to stop at Victoria, the port of entry nearest the international boundary line. Should they be successful, all American vessels for Nanaimo will be taken in by British tugs.—Post-Intelligencer.

Died in California.

Frederick William, only son of Hon. John Robson, died at Los Angeles, California, on Monday, after many months of suffering, which neither changes of climate nor all the care and kindness that was lavished on him could alleviate. The deceased was born in New Westminster in 1867, and ever since he was old enough he took a prominent part in the Athletic Associations of the Province. He served three years in the law firm of Eberts & Taylor, but sickness called him away from his chosen profession, and he went to Kamloops in search of health. Not being improved by the climate there he was taken to California several months ago. He was a lieutenant in the B. C. Artillery, and was a general favorite with all who knew him. The remains, accompanied by the afflicted mother, will arrive here about Monday.

Seghers Council.

The regular quarterly meeting was held last evening when business being completed the grand lecturer, Rev. Father Van Nevel, addressed the members.

The anniversary of the Institute, May 4th, will be celebrated this year by a grand banquet.

The Victoria and Nanaimo Institutes will hold their annual picnic at Duncan's station during the summer.

In the Cathedral School.

The Cathedral school room should have been occupied to-day by a Bible class, but the ladies took possession of it beforehand, and transformed it into a brilliant bazaar, where were offered for sale things inumerable and as pretty as numerous. A really sumptuous luncheon was served between the hours of 12 and 2, and many business gentlemen availed themselves of the opportunity of having a good lunch served by such pleasant hands. The ladies prominent in the sale of work were: President, Mrs. Richards. Committee: Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Edwin Johnson, Mrs. Beanlands, Mrs. Hiscocks, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. T J. Jones, Mrs. W. Wilson, Mrs. Wollaston, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. P. T. Johnston, Mrs. Goward, Mrs. Toller, Mrs. Blaiklock, Mrs. H. Kent, Mrs. Wallace, and Mrs. Boggs, while many others lent a willing helping hand to-day when the crush came. This evening will be devoted to music.

Vancouver Will Celebrate.

There will be much rejoicing in Vancouver over the arrival of the Empress of India. The festivities will partake of athletic sports, to be participated in by the Calgary, New Westminster, Victoria and Vancouver lacrosse clubs; Indian boat races and baseball matches, and a grand torchlight procession on the Inlet by the Mission Indians, accompanied by their band. On the evening of the arrival of the steamer the Vancouver opera house will be opened. A grand ball will also mark the occasion.

Excursion tickets, at single fare for the the round trip, will be issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to and from Vancouver and all points west of and including Kamloops, and by the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company from all Puget Sound, Vancouver Island and Mainland ports. Also, by the Union Steamship Company of Vancouver.

Chinamen Fooled Once

The opening case at the city police court this morning was one of those Chinese assault cases, of which so much is heard but so little understood. It was an assault case as usual, and as is always the case the prosecutor disappeared before the case was completed. His Honor, however, had prepared for just such an occurrence by making the prosecutor give evidence when he swore to the information. Therefore, when the case was settled out of court justice was not trifled with, for the prisoner was fined $15 and $5 costs. The McDonald-Harbottle case was remanded until to-morrow, the same course being taken in a case against G. C. Mescher, for allowing that high board fence to remain standing on the corner of Fort and Government streets. Mr. Mescher explained that the fence was necessary to prevent rocks from flying across the street while he was engaged in blasting.

Would be a Convenience.

It is doubtful if many have taken into consideration the important fact that the little stern wheel steamer Caledonia, recently built by the H.B. Company, is going to take in transportation business of the northern part of the province. She was built principally as a trial, that is to test the advisability of running steamers on the Skeena river. As many are aware, that river is very swift, so that in the past canoes have done all the work of carrying stores and provisions up the river. Last year the amount paid by the Hudson Bay Company for this mode of transportation being between ten and fifteen thousand dollars for their supplies. The Caledonia was built to do away with this expensive mode of freighting and if she proves successful in climbing the river as her owners are confident she will, it will be one of the greatest boons imaginable for the settlers. Capt. Odin, who has charge of her, proposes to carrying the stores up as far the canyon and when the state of the river is convenient, cross the rapids and go on up the river. Freight which in the past has been taken to New Caledonia around by the Fraser could be taken up by the Skeena which would greatly lessen the distance that it has to be carried.

Musin Come and Gone.

The Musin Concert Company closed their engagement last evening, not perhaps to as large an audience as they deserved, but still to a goodly sized gathering. They left an impression which will constitute a warm welcome for them should they return. The new world famous Kreutzer Sonata was the first item on the programme, and although it was somewhat long, and exceedingly classical and technical in character, the audience was held closely interested to the end. It was not so much the composition itself that wielded this power as the masterly hand that interpreted the composer's meaning through the violin which seems to be a part of his very self. The sonata abounds in beautiful passages, and delightful runs. Notwithstanding its extreme length and the fatigue the artist must have undergone in rendering it, a conscienceless but delighted audience would take no denial of an encore, and the great man came back to give one of those old violin pieces which made the instrument almost speak. His fingering is a marvel of nimbleness and accuracy, the finger board is measured in the most rapid passages, with unerring precission. Besides a pleasant and at the same time, very difficult composition of his own, Mr. Musin played on one string, Rossini's variations on the prayer of Moses. Here, too, he performed wonders of technical skill, and was enthusiastically recalled. The other members of the company all met with warm sympathy and reward, each one equaling, if not excelling the first evening's efforts.

Have received instructions from THOMAS R. SMITH, ESQ., Assistant Commissioner, to sell by

PUBLIC AUCTION

Thursday, May 14th,

AT 12 O'CLOCK NOON,

At Salesrooms, Wharf street, a number of plots of land located at

VIEWFIELD

The Puget Sound Company's land at

MACAULEY POINT

The finest and best location for residences adjacent to Victoria.

It has been subdivided into plots of land containing about one acre each. Much of the shore line is rocky, having many small bays with sandy beaches.

VIEWFIELD can be favorably compared to BEACON HILL, the pride of every Victorian. It has the same sandy soil, grassy lawns, rich bottom lands, with clumps of timber, but above all it has without compare the finest views of FUCA STRAITS, UP SOUND, the SNOW-CLAD OLYMPIC MOUNTAINS, exceeding even Beacon Hill in its view, in that it has a view of the City of Victoria.

VIEWFIELD is not subject to the prevailing western winds Albert Head acting as a windbreak.

The Puget Sound Land Company having completed the survey of VIEWFIELD, have under contract the thorough making, draining and gravelling of 60-foot streets.

They have rejected all offers of purchasers, deciding to first sell VIEWFIELD by PUBLIC AUCTION limiting the number of plots to be sold.

VIEWFIELD has the advantage of having the Esquimalt Waterworks system to supply it with the best and purest water on the coast, and under good pressure.

VIEWFIELD has facilities for rapid transit to Victoria or Esquimalt, by the cars of the National Electric car system.

VIEWFIELD is to-day the most desirable and will be the fashionable residence property outside the City of Victoria of which it is a suburb.

FISH ON THE COAST.

Pen Picture of a Salmon Run—Work of the Dog Fish.

"Fish, sir!"

"What kind?"

"Salmon."

"No!"

This is the sign of an Alaskan in the hotels. I want to make a few frivolous and desultory notes upon the subject.

In wandering about the British Columbia and Alaska coasts one may grow accustomed to the supernatural grandeur of the scenery, may get reconciled to living altogether in gum boots and oilskins and being wet besides, may cease to make lamentations at the non-delivery of all letters, may treat it as a matter of course to be cheated by the Indians in every transaction with them, may be quite unconcerned at the imminent risk of getting drowned on seven days of the week, but there is one thing that from a delight rapidly becomes a nuisance and then an object of lifelong hatred and contempt. It is salmon.

I once spent six days at a cannery in southeastern Alaska, at the time of the "run" in the creek near by, of "stermorne," a small and inferior variety, of which the males are hump-backed. Out in the channel at night could be seen a most wonderful sight. Down in black depths flashed pallid forms, all aglow with phosphorus, performing a dance, a weird ghost carnival, amid lights innumerable, in depth and space without end, such as makes my head reel to contemplate. They were dog fish—imitation sharks of gristle and gelatine, half translucent fiends, the grey wolves of the sea. These hang upon the great armies of the salmon. The estuary of the creek was black with the humps and dorsal fins of the "stermorne." They were crowded to suffocation. I went among them one day in a dory, and shoals breaking away heavily to avoid the oars, splashing me until I was wet. Despite their frantic efforts to escape, it was not easy to row through them. At the head of the estuary there is a cascade, and at the foot of it the throng was so dense that some of the fish appeared to be crowded up out of the water. It was curious to watch their tactics in climbing the steep slope of rocks, for they were too crowded to get impetus enough to leap the obstruction. Only a few could climb up at a time, and many of them fell back wounded in the attempt. Quite a large percentage were more or less wounded by the bites of dog fish and hair seals or by striking against the rocks, and many, although horribly mangled, were still attempting to ascend the stream with the crowd. Had the waters above been covered with blazing oil I don't think there would have been any hesitation in facing it, and as it was their actual danger was that of an army in battle.

At the head of the cascade it was quite easy to pick the salmon out of the stream by hand, for they were too crowded and too exhausted to resist or escape. An Indian was hooking them out at the rate of one every five seconds by my watch, as steadily as one swings a flail. My host would come down the beach a little before noon, remarking that the old woman would be wanting something for dinner. He would hook out a dozen or so of the best looking females and make a careful selection of one, leaving the rest to die on the gravel. But the most wonderful thing of all was the bringing to shore at high tide of a seine. The lines were hauled up and made fast to trees, and when the tide went down the salmon were left dead, ninety-nine out of every hundred expiring with their heads landward. The average weight seemed to be from five to seven pounds, although some of a larger variety weighed about thirty-five. They lay in one gleaming heap of silver and were estimated to number over six thousand. But apart from the legitimate supply for the cannery the waste was awful. The retreat of the salmon up that creek somehow suggested Napoleon's retreat from Moscow, so vast the movement, so terrible the destruction. But despite this curious interest, six days at the cannery was intolerable. The people were of a somewhat low grade and they talked of salmon exclusively. There was certainly little else to eat. Baked, boiled, stewed, fried, fricasseed, hashed; pie, rissole, soup, the salmon was in form protean, but in flavor of ghastly monotony. The stench of refuse on the beach was intolerable. Despairing, I wandered off into the woods in an aimless way. I got lost. Then a breeze sprung up; at a distance of a mile and a half the stench from that beach was strong enough to guide me home. On the sixth day I escaped.

The salmon is not generally so objectionable. The presence of canneries leads one into the most unexpected and delightful of little bays, and if space permitted I could tell some very nice stories about spearing and shooting and trapping, even eating, these splendid fish, when they were not too numerous. I claim great credit for not administering here a dose of natural history and a description of the fishery processes, although sorely tempted. But there are some reflections which must inevitably occur to everyone seeing the great fishery.

How big is it? Between northern California and northern China the rivers and streams entering the North Pacific and Behring sea probably drain an area, for the most part well watered, of about 3,000,000 square miles. Nearly all these streams are annually choked with salmon to their utmost capacity. Although differing in quality, all are good to eat, and by freezing, salting, smoking or canning, can be easily preserved. How long will this last? Just so long as the spawn is properly cultivated in hatcheries, at the expense either of the Government or of those interested in the industry. This has been conclusively proved by the brilliant success of artificial culture in the McCloud, Clackamas and Fraser rivers. And finally, of what use is it? A single district, that of Kodiak and Cook's Inlet, produces half a million cases a year, and yet the Yukon, Kuskokoim and Amoor, three of the four great salmon rivers—the fourth being the Columbia—have not yet been touched by commerce. It surely appears from these facts that if the salmon fishery is intelligently handled, the product will become one of the great factors in the food supply of mankind.

CANADIAN NEWS.

Late Telegrams from the Eastern Canadian Cities.

THEY DEFY THE BAIT LAW.

HALIFAX, N.S., April 21.—Six hundred Newfoundlanders assembld yesterday in Placentia Bay, determined to haul herring for the purpose of selling them to St. Pierre fishermen for bait, in defiance of the Bait Act. An officer was sent to warn the fishermen, and if they refused to disperse he was ordered to arrest them. He was set upon by some fishermen and severely injured. Then the fishermen indulged in riotous, threatening actions, in which they were aided and encouraged by some residents of St. Pierre. The Government has sent two cruisers to the scene of the trouble. Great excitement prevails here.

THE BRIBERY BILL DEFEATED.

TORONTO, April 22.—The bill introduced into the legislature by Mr. Whitney, making bribery punishable by six months' imprisonment, without the option of a fine, was defeated on the second reading. Premier Mowat announced that before another general election he would advise more stringent measures against bribery and other corrupt practices.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

PRINCETON, April 22.—Frank Larmour, agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, left here two months ago with considerable money for a two weeks' holiday in the United States, and has not been heard from since. With the Birchall-Benwell case fresh in their minds, the people here suspect foul play.

ONDERDONK'S ARBITRATION CASE.

WINNIPEG, April 22.—Hon. Edward Blake, G. T. Blackstock and Wm. Dawson, all engaged on behalf of the C.P.R., in the Onderdonk arbitration case, passed through Winnipeg yesterday, for the Pacific coast. While here they were entertained by members of the Manitoba Club.

DOMINION ELECTION PROTESTS.

TORONTO, April 22.—Petitions have been entered against the return of the following members of Parliament: In East Hastings, Burdett, Reformer; Halton, Henderson, Conservative; Leeds South, Taylor, Conservative; Kingston, Macdonald, Conservative; Victoria South, Fairburn, Conservative; Peel, Featherstone, Reformer; London, Hyman, Reformer; York North, Mulock, Reformer; Victoria North, Barton, Reformer; Perth South, Trow, Reformer; Waterloo North, Bowman, Reformer; Bruce East, Truax, Reformer; York West, Wallace, Conservative. The following cross-petitions were also entered: York North, Pegg, Conservative; York West, Clement, Reformer; Peel, McCulla, Conservative; Elgin East, Wilson, Reformer; Victoria South, Waters, Reformer. In each case the usual charges of bribery and corruption are made.

A COMPARISON.

Some of the Historic Wrecks as Compared With the Loss of the Utopia.

In referring to the terrible disaster that occurred in Gibraltar harbor some weeks ago, the Military and Navy Review makes the following comparisons: The disaster which has happened in Gibraltar harbor to the Utopia, emigrant ship, is, happily, almost unparalleled. There is no example of a similar catastrophe arising from the same cause in all the records of the British marine. The Utopia was flung right against the ram of the Anson, and had her sides ripped open as though they had been of cardboard. The result is a loss of life which is estimated at 504 souls. Since the wreck of Princess Alice in the Thames no such loss of life has occurred. The only other parallels are to be found in the loss of the Royal George with 600 lives in 1782, and the loss of the Atlantic, a White Star liner, which struck on the Meaghier rock, west of Sambro, in 1873. Here is a list of a few of the great historic wrecks, and it will be seen that the disaster at Gibraltar stands in the foremost ranks:

1782—Royal George, foundered off Spithead	600
1785—Halswell, East Indiaman	386
1806—Royal Adelaide, wrecked on the Tongue Sands, off Margate	400
1852—Birkenhead, troopship, off Simon's Bay, South Africa, Soldiers and crew	454
1854—City of Glasgow, disappeared in storm in the Black Sea	480
1858—Austrian, steam emigrant ship, burnt in mid-Atlantic. Disaster due to carelessness	471
1859—Royal Charter, screw steamer, off Anglesea	446
1865—Lady Egan, sank through collision on Lake Michigan; Mr. Herbert Ingram, M. P., founder of the "Illustrated London News," and his son were drowned	285
1866—The London, foundered in the Bay of Biscay; including Mr. G. V. Brooke, the tragedian	220
1870—H. M. S. Captain, foundered near Finisterre	472
1872—Northfleet, run into off Dungeness	300
1873—Atlantic, White Star liner, struck on Meagher Rock, west of Sambro	573
1874—Cospatrick, emigrant ship, took fire on way to Auckland, New Zealand	470
1875—Princess Alice, pleasure steamer, run into in Thames, off Woolwich, by Rywell Castle. Loss of life between 650 and	700
1878—H. M. S. Eurydice, capsized near Ventnor	300
1878—Grosser Kurfurst, sunk by collision	300
1887—Kapunda, emigrant ship, sunk off the East Coast of South America	30
1890—H. M. S. Serpent, wrecked off the coast of Spain	200

There seems to be no reason for believing that any mismanagement caused the loss of the Utopia. She became unmanageable in a gale from the effects of which we have suffered so severely in this country, and the force of which is not, perhaps, yet spent all over the world. We need not dwell on the harrowing details, or recall how so many men and women leaving the old world full of hope to make their fortunes in the fresher lands of the great Republic, found themselves almost on the outset of their voyage, suddenly flung into the waves. Their case was hopeless from the first. Gallantly did our bluejackets risk their own lives to save a few of those who were battling against overwhelming odds for continued existence. For most of those who perished all was over in ten minutes. They had hardly time to realize their own agony before their panic was stayed by a merciful quick death. Such disasters are irremediable. A hundred Shipping Acts will not prevent them. But when an inquiry takes place, it is to be hoped it will be directed to the question of what measures ought to be taken to preserve life on crowded emigrant ships when trouble arises. We cannot evade the storm, and we are little likely to surrender the destructive ram because the Utopia has gone down. The disaster rather demonstrates, as did the loss of the Vanguard, the value of a ram in battle. But we do not feel quite satisfied that every preparation is made on emigrant ships to avoid disaster.

Mothers!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1879 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Hood's Sarsaparilla, as it had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

THE ABOVE WORK IS THE OUTCOME of the recent Moral Reform Movement which took place in the Capital City of British Columbia, and which played such an prominent part in the late Municipal Elections held there. The author discusses the various phases of the question, and has endeavored to deal with the subject in a manner that will be interesting and some practical benefit to every reader into whose hands his book may fall. The position taken by the Ministers of the Christian Churches in regard to the Municipal Election above referred to is also fully dealt with, and although the criticisms may seem severe to some, the author hopes the conclusions drawn and the desire he has shown to do a service, no matter how slight it may be, to the weak and fallen, will meet with the approval of all lovers of justice and humanity.

THE R. C. CATHEDRAL CONTRACT

Likely that Contractor McDonald Will Drop Out and the Bishop Continue It.

Contractor McDonald, it is understood, is contemplating the relinquishment of his contract for the Roman Catholic Cathedral. For some days work has been carried on at the building with a very limited number of men, and at one time work was completely suspended for two days. Three days the terms of contract set down as the limit for forfeiture.

There was to have been an understanding arrived at yesterday in regard to the matter, but it is still in abeyance. His Lordship Bishop Lemmens will, the expectation is, continue the work himself, should McDonald throw up the contract.

FIRE DEPARTMENT NOTES.

Items of Interests to Everyone—The New Fire Escapes.

The fire department held their weekly drill last evening, the hook and ladder boys practising on the new fire escape and the hosemen on the streets. The fire escapes were pronounced A 1, and will in case of fire be a great convenience.

Several of the members are laid up with bad colds.

Jno. McNeil, who had a splinter run in his hand at the last weekly drill was put under ether at St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday, and had his hand lanced. A silver over an inch long, that had buried itself in the palm of the hand was extracted.

D. Henry, who had his hand smashed with a sledge hammer some time ago, in Leddingham's blacksmith shop, is recovering the use of his hand, and will take his place as driver of the truck on the 1st of May.

It is probable that tenders will again be called for the sale of the Deluge House on Yates street.

Fire escapes have been placed on the following buildings: Turner Block, Corbert & Warner's, New York Hotel, Delmonico Hotel, Colonist Hotel, Chinese Josh House, and On Hings. In a few days they will be placed on the Clarence Hotel, Driard, Pritchard House, Belmont building, Metropole Hotel, Gilmore & McCandless, and the Stelly Block.
